

BEST NEWS PORTAL I'VE FOUND PROVIDES BIAS

We all know the news sites and sources have literally become nothing more than public relations tools for whatever the parent company wants promoted or side lined. I was less than subtle in my economic report from the beginning of September about what I think.

In my web searches and research, I came across the following news portal that impressed me and is worth sharing.

The following couple of slides will show you why and help you understand the page the first time you go to it.
